Telephone lines are now being constructed from Nashville to this city and from here to Hopkinsville.

It's a boy, and Mr. Frank Morrison puts on a good deal more style than he did last week.

The Hon. Clarence U. McElroy, of Bowling Green, has withdrawn from the Congressional race in the 3d Kentucky district.

The Congressional Convention for this district will be held at Nashville, on the 22d, instead of here, as at first published.

Reports from all parts of the State show the State Credit Decease daily growing in strength and numbers.

We notice large quantities of wheat coming in by wagons every day. Our mills are now all in full blast.

The circus is coming. W. W. Cole's monster circus and menagerie will exhibit here early in September.

The drum and life are now nightly heard in the land. "Ta-ra-ta-ta, ta-ra-ta-ta. No rest until November. Oh, for the fides of November."

Chop reports received by Commissioner Hawkins show the wheat crop the largest ever grown in Tennessee, and the corn crop is equally encouraging.

The theft of the State archives from the capitol at Nashville seems to have been greatly exaggerated. None of the Supreme Court dockets are lost.

Col. Thos. Claiborne says "Gen'l. H. seems to love to 'plant himself.' He will find in November that neither Paul nor Apollo will water him."

The Mechanics Building and Loan Association will loan to its members next Wednesday, the 19th inst., three thousand dollars. Apply to the Secretary.

H. F. HARRIS & Co., have made considerable improvements in their carriage shop on Commerce street, formerly Baker & Bros' stand. They have put in an open front, which adds greatly to the appearance of the building.

The report of Commissioner Hawkins for July shows the most brilliant crop prospects throughout the State. The corn crop is the largest ever known. The crop of potatoes is rated at 2.40, with a decidedly faster tendency.

The Democrat, the new weekly paper published here by Mr. M. V. Ingram, made its first appearance last Saturday. Its typographical work is neatly done and all in all the paper presents a very fair appearance.

The iron front just put up to Mr. Henry French's new store presents a very handsome and substantial appearance. It was first appeared in Louisville and put up by the well-known firm of Whitfield, Bates & Co., of this city.

The Late J. W. Singleton, M. D., of Paducah, Ky.

In the Nashville Journal of medicine and surgery for July, 1882, is a sketch of the life and medical success of the late J. M. Briggs, M. D.

of Bowling Green, Ky., father of Prof. W. T. and grand-father of Prof. C. S. Briggs, M. D., editor of the Nashville Journal of medicine and surgery, Nashville, Tenn.

In this paper Prof. Bowling makes honorable mention of many of Kentucky's distinguished physicians, both living and dead, but to the late J. W. Singleton, of Paducah, Ky., he pays the highest compliment, crowning him chief in point of eloquence. This is what the Prof. says of the distinguished Singleton:

"Except Winston no Kentucky professor in a Medical College was eloquent and out of the colleges in the medical societies, State or National, I think J. W. Singleton, of Paducah, alone, had been baptised in the light from Heaven."

A just tribute to his memory made by a noted gifted brother, yet more distinguished as one competent to teach and to judge. Had Prof. Bowling been writing an obituary notice of the gifted Singleton much more could have been said of him as a physician. The writer knew him as well as any man can know another; as a physician he was the peer of any man in private practice, and in hospital practice the equal of any, and in the treatment of hospital gangrene, erysipelas and kindred diseases the superior of all; in heart and hand the kindest of physicians, as a friend he had no superior and but few equals. Peace to his ashes. J. M. L.

Death of Capt. Wm. G. Ewin.

The news of the death of the very estimable gentleman whose name heads this article will be received with deep regret by many friends and acquaintances in this city. He died at Nashville last Saturday night after a lingering illness of that dread disease, consumption. He was married in this city several years ago to Miss Mattie Hillman, daughter of Mr. Geo. W. Hillman, of this city, who with several children survives him. The sincere sympathy of the community is with them in their bereavement. The Banner says of him:

"The deceased was a man of noble and generous impulses, and highly esteemed by all who knew him. He served gallantly throughout the war in Battle's famous Twentieth Tennessee Regiment, having enlisted as a private when a mere boy, and coming back as captain, a high and honorable distinction in a regiment where every man was fit to be in the highest position. After the war he was elected to the office of County Court Clerk, a position which he filled with the utmost fidelity, leaving a record that can be pointed to with pride by generations to come. At the close of his administration, he removed to Hickman county, and engaged in milling and mercantile pursuits, and in his new home made as many friends as he had in his old county. In all the relations of life he was a true man, a consistent Christian, who enjoyed the confidence and respect of the community at large. He leaves a wife and a family of interesting children to mourn his loss."

On Thursday the officers of the law got wind of the fact that a too enterprising dorkie had secured a jug of the "Oh, be joyful," and opened a temporary gin mill in one of the upper rooms of the old Hale block, on Strawberry Alley. Investigation was immediately had and the enterprising dorkie was found to be one of the "people" and we propose to vote to sustain it, and so do about one hundred and ninety odd thousand other people in the State, and "don't you forget it." The conservative sentiment in Tennessee plainly indicates that it will be sustained. You Readjusters must not support it, but you forget that you are not all the people in the State "by a large majority." Do you hear us?

Have you ever considered whether the Readjuster platform can be carried into execution? Have you the least assurance that the State's creditors will accept any such proposition? Is it reasonable to suppose that they will, when they have already offered a fair and reasonable compromise which has been accepted? Why, then, vote for the repeal of the old debt settlement and entail an everlasting agitation of this hurtful question?

WILLIAM BOYD, a worthy and polite colored man, has just finished and opened a general grocery and produce store, near the corner of Fifth cross and Franklin street, opposite the public school building. He will also run an ice cream saloon in connection with his store, and is also the agent for a good line of second-hand clothing which he will be pleased to sell. If you should patronize William you will find him a polite and clever man.

Lost His House.

We regret to learn that Mr. J. G. McKee, a promising citizen of District No. 1, living near Hampton's Station, was so unfortunate as to lose his house and entire contents by fire on last Tuesday night. We have not been able to learn the origin of the fire. The house and furniture were both partly covered by insurance.

This beautiful new flag to be presented by the generous and estimable young ladies of this city, to the gallant C. C. G.'s, has already been ordered, and will be received here by the 10th inst. It is said to be perfectly lovely, and knowing the fair donors we have no hesitation in saying it must be just perfectly splendid. The ladies selected the color and design themselves.

At a regular meeting of the C. C. G.'s, on last Monday night, the Rev. P. A. Fitts was unanimously elected chaplain, in the place of Rev. J. J. Spencer, who had resigned on account of his removal from the city.

COL. WM. FRERSON was found dead in bed, at Shelbyville, Tenn., on Thursday of last week, and Mr. Fitts E. Dunaway another prominent citizen of the same city dropped dead on Friday.

Don't Pull the Flowers.

On Saturday last, three boys were arrested for pulling flowers at Greenwood Cemetery, taken before a magistrate and fined five dollars each—the whole amounting to about $15. The laws against such depredations as this are very strict, and Mr. Wyatt, the Superintendent, only discharged his bounden duty in reporting these boys and having them punished. Not only boys, but many other persons who ought to and do know better, are frequently guilty of pulling the flowers and shrubbery of this beautiful "City of the Dead," and it must be stopped. We trust the fate of these boys will deter others from doing the same thing.

The many warm friends of Rev. and Mrs. Jno. W. Hanner, Jr., in this city and vicinity, having with great regret of the untimely death of Ford, their little four year old son, which sad event occurred at Springfield, Tenn., on last Friday, after a very short illness of meningitis. Brother Hanner was absent from home at the time, having gone on a trip to Florida, and only reached home in time to see the remains of his bright and beloved little boy deposited in their last resting place. The interment was had at his old home at Franklin, Tenn. The sincere condolence of this community is extended to the afflicted family in their sad bereavement.

A special to the Courier-Journal from Bowling Green states that a man named Benjamin Lowe, was arrested at that place on Monday by officer Corban, charged with stealing a horse below Clarksville.

We learn that Lowrie is charged with stealing a horse from a man named Lowrie, and also a horse and about $150 in cash from John Nolan, near Shiloh, in district No. 20, this county. He will be brought back here for trial.

The regular monthly business meeting will be held at the rooms of the Association, next Monday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

The Executive Committee would urge every member to be present at this meeting, even though it should require some sacrifice to do it, for questions of the utmost importance to the welfare of the Association must be decided, and the voice of every member is requested in reaching this decision. Remember this and be sure to attend.

The Commercial street sewer has been laid up to the McDaniel pond, and on Wednesday morning the water was turned into the sewer. It only took a very short time to run the entire body of water off. It is gratifying to know that we are at last rid of this pestilential quagmire, and that it can never form again so long as the sewer lasts. Some few may have had doubts as to how the sewer would work; to those, we are glad to say, that if the draining of the McDaniel pond is a fair test, it comes up to every want and requirement. Indeed, it is a splendid system of sewerage for the city so far as it goes and will be far more useful and beneficial than the mere drainage of the McDaniel pond. It is not known exactly yet what it will cost.

"The settlement will not stand," yells a Readjuster, "the people will not endorse it." Oh, well, now, hold on sonny, that depends upon and whether they will or won't. We are one of the "people" and we propose to vote to sustain it, and so do about one hundred and ninety odd thousand other people in the State, and "don't you forget it." The conservative sentiment in Tennessee plainly indicates that it will be sustained. You Readjusters must not support it, but you forget that you are not all the people in the State "by a large majority." Do you hear us?

Hold yourself in readiness to see the drill of the Broom Brigade, under command of Leat. Munford, of the C. C. G.'s. Everybody is on this qui vive about this novel entertainment. It will come off in a few weeks.

Messrs. Keesee & Northington call your attention elsewhere to the reduced prices of the celebrated Hale coal. This coal is a great favorite with many of our largest consumers. Coal delivered this month at 12 1/2 for lump and 1 1/4 for nut.

Let every man in the county come in to-day and hear the Hon. E. A. James, of Hamilton, on the "EXERCISE QUESTION." He is the most brilliant young orator in Tennessee.

THERE will be no service at the Trinity church, to-morrow, on account of the absence of the Pastor. Sunday school at the usual hours.

SEE the amusing Fan Drill and the charming little girls in their costumes of the time of Queen Anne.

THE children's Fan Brigade at the Opera, Tuesday night, will be the cent of next week.

MISS SALLIE HOWARD'S School will open Sept. 4th.

A CAMP.

MR. EDITOR—A space is asked to make known a fact which in the Chronicle's issue of the 28th ult. by Mr. W. H. Hanner relates to my admission to the Bar, intimating that something is wrong in the record when it said, "went to Nashville, as, previously, secured with the State Bar, and that of city license to practice law, &c." The facts are these: I called on the Hon. C. W. Tyler on Monday the 24th ult., and presented him a certificate from the County Court, and requested an examination as to my legal attainments, according to law (Code 387). The Hon. Judge declined, but cited me to the next day, and upon my certificate of a satisfactory examination, he issued a license to me, according to law, and I was admitted to the Bar, and the matter of my examination would be closed. He refused to sign a certificate, and I was not allowed to practice. I called on the Hon. C. W.
